STAUNTON GADET FALSELY CHARGED

Young Texas Student Not Guilty of Forging Name to Draft.

[Special to the Times-Dispatch.] Staunton, Va., April 4.—A strange case of mistaken identity that has excited the interest of all Staunton for four days and aroused the sympathy of a great many persons had an airing in Police Court this morning, resulting in the discharge of C. N. NAGLE, of Austin, Tex., a youth sixteen years of age, who was charged with forging the name of a wealthy cotton exporter of that city, who was attending the Staunton Military Academy in his first year. Some red-headed youth, about ten days ago, who said he was a cadet of the Staunton Military Academy, cashed a $125 draft on a man in Canada, purporting to be indorsed by W. G. Kable, commandant of the school. A few days after he cashed another for $175. When the first case was brought before the court, Kable's name was forged, whereupon, later Thursday night, the teller of the Augusta National Bank swore out a warrant against Nagle, and he was placed in jail, where he remained until today.

His father came on, and the boy proved a fine character, and the evidence against him fell through, to the gratification of the entire community. He left to-night with his father for Texas. Staunton notes with interest the case of a red-headed cadet, who an away last night, taking the train for New York.
